What is Acne?

Acne is the most common skin disorder in the US. It affects 17 million people of all ages. Skin types with dry, normal and oily conditions are affected. Acne is a skin disorder which occurs when the oil secreting glands deep within the follicle of the skin become clogged with oil and dead skin cells causing bacteria to grow in the pores. This occurs approximately 2-3 weeks prior to the blemish appearing on the skins surface. This results in whiteheads, black-heads and pimples. These "lesions" primarily occur on the face, neck, shoulder, back and chest. Acne generally starts at the onset of puberty, however it afflicts women and men of all ages.
